

PROCESS PRO

Uniting Process. Achieving Potential.

ProcessPro.
The Process
Manufacturing Experts.

At ProcessPro, we believe in one basic rule: get more from your information and you will get more from your business. It's that simple. Intelligent Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) software, designed specifically for batch process manufacturers like you, can help deliver an incredibly elegant solution that not only helps you keep up with your business information, but also allows you to get ahead of it – becoming more efficient and profitable in the process.

Speaking your language.
Understanding your needs.

There are other providers of ERP software solutions, but none that design, develop and sell solely to your industry. What you gain with ProcessPro is the experience and insight of process manufacturing experts who understand the unique needs of your industry, from lot tracking to formulation management to regulatory compliance. We specialize in:

- Food and Beverage
- Nutraceutical
- Pharmaceutical
- Cosmetics and Personal Care
- Specialty Chemical

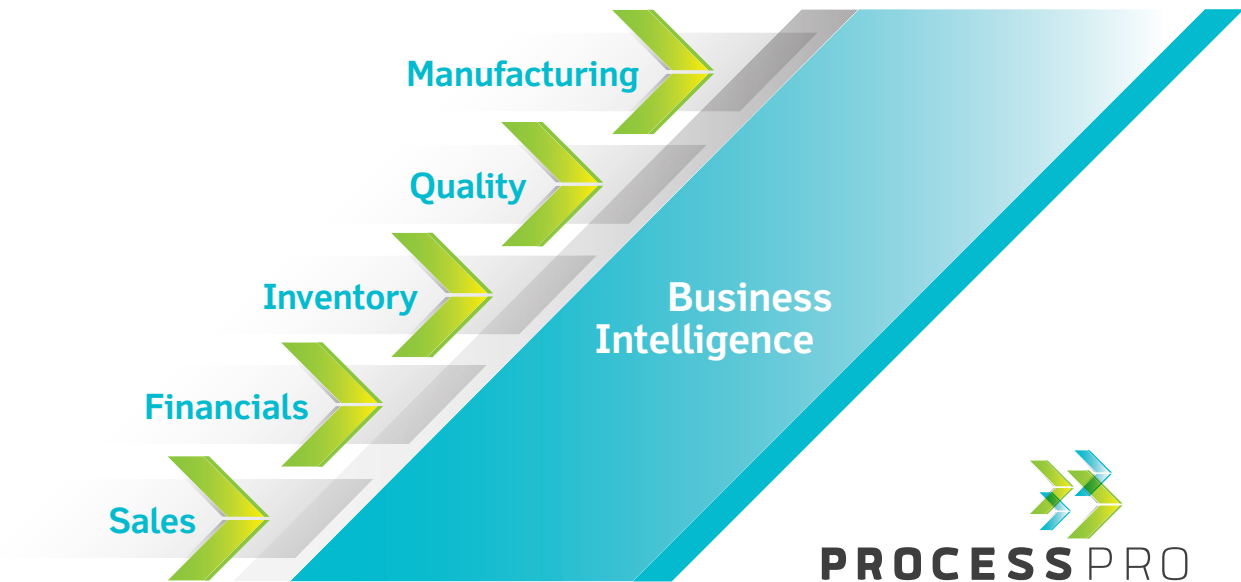

The Power of ONE

Developed by us. Sold by us. Installed by us. Supported by us. It's a powerful formula and one that has helped us – and our clients – succeed. Gain peace of mind in knowing that you have a single source to deal with at every phase – no resellers that lack support or third-party installers who lack knowledge of the software. And rather than off-shore or third-party technical support, you can expect live, dedicated assistance from our team at our corporate headquarters. When you work with us, you make ONE call to someone who speaks your language and understands your needs. At every step of the equation, we're here to ensure your success.
