Global Shop Solutions Simplifies and Optimizes Manufacturing with Cloud ERP

THE WOODLANDS, TX, JUNE 2017 – Global Shop Solutions, an international producer of ERP software for the manufacturing industry, announced their continual efforts to promote efficiencies on the shop floor with top performance through the use of Cloud ERP.

Designed to eliminate the need of on-premise servers and the costly IT support they demand, Global Shop Solutions' cloud-based ERP software was specifically created with manufacturing customers in mind. Customers are now offered the same robust ERP software experience, but with increased accessibility, speed, and security. With the reduced need for focusing on hardware and software, customers can now spend more time focusing on the job at hand and pushing forward their business knowing their data is safe and secure.

“Continuous innovation is the name of the game. I’m immensely proud of our team identifying new ways to simplify manufacturing for our customers. Cloud ERP is just one of the many ways we continue to transform ERP for the industry and our customers,” says Global Shop Solutions CEO Dusty Alexander.

With Cloud ERP, customers can experience the power of Global Shop Solutions ERP software for manufacturers in the Amazon Web Service cloud. Accessibility, security and faster system response harmonize to guarantee an uptime of 99.95%.

Manufacturers can continue to deliver a quality part on-time every time with nearly 30 applications available from quote-to-cash as if they were using the on-premise deployment method that Global Shop Solutions customers have been using for 40 years. With a customer-centric frame of mind, Global Shop Solutions' Cloud ERP is completely customizable to the needs of any manufacturing business.

“Global Shop Solutions is always a step ahead of us. We’re always trying to catch up with all of their innovations and updates,” says Quality Director Emilio Ortega, Global Shop Solutions customer Solar Spring and Wire Forms.

When utilizing Cloud ERP, Global Shop Solutions handles all updates and maintenance in-house, giving customers the most up-to-date version operating at top speed. Maintenance-free software and speed is paired with quick and simple automatic cloud-based data backups so files and data are never lost.
